

4D Shosseynaya Street

The nearest underground station is Pechatniki

BY UNDERGROUND

“Pechatniki” underground station. The first carriage from the center, not paying attention to the direction signs, to the nearest exit. Then go round the station in such a way that the hallway is behind your back (the location of the fuel filling station is on the map). Then go off the underground along Shosseynaya Street till the first turning to the left (300 meters), take a turn, keep going for 100 meters and you are at the gate of the Polygraphic Complex.

“Tekstishchiky” underground station. The last carriage from the center, entrance to “Moscow” Technopolis (former Car-making plant of Lenin Comsomol). Take any bus (193, 161, 703, 438, 426) to the direction of Pechatniki underground station, go for two bus stops till the Shosseynaya Street bus stop, bld.1 (near “Metro” shop), go for about 100 meters in the direction of traffic and turn right after you go through the passage under the railway bridge.

BY CAR

Volgogradsky avenue from the center, about 300 meters before the bridge over the railway platform and “Tekstishchiky” underground, turn right into the “pocket” (the landmark is the fuel filling station) which will lead you to Shosseynaya Street. Then go along this street past the Car-making plant of Lenin Comsomol, till the T-shaped crossing with the projected 3610 passway, then keep to the left, along the main road. Then go till the passway under a small railway bridge, then after 20 meters you will see the turning to the right. Take this turning and after 100 meters you are at the gate of the Polygraphic Complex.